

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Our team customizes services to fit your community needs!

We help your organization thrive with our technical assistance, professional development, and program evaluations. We provide inspiration through our keynote speeches, trainings, and workshops. Our policy analysis is focused on creating actionable solutions for the ECE field. Community Advocates for Young Learners, or CAYL, is a non-profit organization committed to supporting early childhood educators and organizations in providing high quality experiences for young children, staff, and families. Contact us to learn more and become a changemaker for young children today!

HOW CAN WE SUPPORT YOU?

Technical Assistance

CAYL drives the expansion and development of your organization's systems with a focus on improving processes and programs that create sustainable change.

Policy Analysis

We assist your organization in the development of customized policy recommendations for change that you can share with policymakers.

Trainings & Workshops

Our team helps expand your foundation of practical knowledge, tools, and resources by crafting unique curriculum for your training and workshop sessions.

Professional Development

CAYL provides a targeted approach that responds to the racial and ethnic diversity, advocacy, and leadership development needs of your staff and community.

Program Evaluations

We assess the impact of your organization's activities and programs by analyzing existing data and developing tools to help extract new information.

Keynote Speeches

CAYL's nationally recognized team of thought leaders and ECE experts can present inspiring, innovative, and thought provoking remarks on diverse topics at your conferences and meetings.
